Members of the family of Francis Walker of the Harbor Road, Union township, were forced to flee in their night clothing, when fire originating from an overheated furnace completely destroyed the structure about 2:30 this morning. The loss is estimated at $4,500 partly covered by insurance.

The Walkers had a new baby born to them recently, and during the late hours of the evening, Mr. Walker decided it was too cold in the house and built a fire in the furnace.

Awakened By Fire

Shortly after two o'clock this morning, he was awakened by the smell of smoke and decided the house was on fire. He had a large drum of gasoline stored in the cellar and for this reason was afraid to go downstairs (Continued On Page Two)

PA NEW OBSERVES

A problem of no small significance is still unsolved by General Secretary Meermans of the Y. M. C. A. The question that remains unanswered is, what to do with bundles of belongings left behind by boys who returned from Camp Fred L. Reitz on August 2. Clothes, shoes, fishing poles and other property is now at the "Y" waiting to be claimed. Thus far few owners have removed their things.

Add another credit to persons who believed one can show his true nature by mouth action. New Castle police have received word from the warden of the Wyoming State penitentiary who is offering a reward for the arrest of a former prisoner who violated a parole. After describing the wanted man the circular from the western state contains the information that the man "talks very much about printing ink and chews tobacco constantly."

Today is the 13th of August. Although many have lost most of the superstitions of childhood the sinister one and three remain undaunted in their effort to make some persons look before the leap is made. This should be a sign of warning to reckless motorists and others who would endanger the lives of innocent persons.

Despite the drought and other unusual weather conditions, some of the lawns about the city are nice and green, apparently having been given exceptional care during the dry weather.

It's surprising how the weeds will grow, even if other kinds of vegetation have been hard hit by the extended drought. Even the golden rod is coming out in full bloom in many of the fields.

Twenty-Fourth Annual Old Timers Day Draws Large Crowd To Park

Old Timers Day—ideal weather conditions prevailed, and at an early hour today, many local and former residents began moving on Cascade Park with the result at two o'clock this afternoon, when the Grand March started at Rainbow Terrace, that place was thronged, while the park was filled with many people.

There was every indication at that time, that the twenty-fourth Annual Old Timers Day, would be one of the most successful of such events ever held.

Following the Grand March, which was headed by Harvey E. McGoun, president of the Old Timers Association and his daughter Mrs. Fannie Gormley, and held under the supervision of Ralph M. Campbell, the afternoon was to be spent in enjoying old time dances.

Although he is not fully recovered from the effects of his accident on June 27, Constable William Rees of the Wilmington road is well on the way to recovery and is able to get about his home on crutches. On June 27th, while checking illegal parking in the Black Lane in Meshanock township, he had his skull fractured and his pelvic bone broken. For weeks he laid in the Jameson Memorial hospital in an unconscious state unable to tell anything of what happened.

"I cannot remember exactly what happened," said Rees today. "I do remember that on the evening of the accident I attended a hearing in Squire Gilmore's office at which Constable De Graft Robinson was present. I had received a number of telephone calls during the evening complaining of 'neckers' parking in lanes in the township and Robinson and I went out to break them up."

Arguments Over Wick Will Holds Up Merger Suit

Judge Jenkins Grants Third
Postponement Of Merger
Suit Since Its Start

(International News Service)
YOUNGSTOWN, O., Aug. 13.—Difficulties arising over the will of the late Myron C. Wick, co-plaintiff in the suit to enjoin the merger of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company with the Bethlehem Steel company, today had resulted in the third adjournment of the trial since it began seven weeks ago.

Judge David G. Jenkins, following a conference with attorneys for both sides in the suit, adjourned the trial until next Monday, when one of the witnesses to the Wick will was reported to be on a vacation in Canada.

The Wick will was filed in Mahoning county probate court here yesterday, but the hearing to qualify the four executors to continue the merger suit was postponed until Friday because of the absence of the witness and Wick's two minor children who now are said to be in New York.

Executors named in the will are Mrs. Francis Todd Wick, the widow; the Dollar Savings & Trust company; Phillip Wick, a brother, and Webster Todd, Mrs. Wick's brother. The will bequeaths the bulk of the estate to Mrs. Wick.

Joe Serra, aged 19, reported missing from his home in East Brook since Saturday night, has returned to his home, according to the information given the police today.

More than 100 former pupils of the old Reynoldstown school, later known as Central school, and now called the W. N. Aiken building, assembled in their annual reunion in the school building Tuesday afternoon.

The school bell was sounded at 1 o'clock, calling the former pupils to assemble, but like the days of old, they gathered rather tardily, and on arrival at the building, seemed reluctant to enter. They gathered about in groups renewing old acquaintanceships.

Business Session

At 2 o'clock, the business session was called to order with the president, Anna Tobin McGurk, presiding. The invocation was delivered by Frank Geiger.

The minutes of last year's meeting were read by Mrs. James K. Pollock, Sr., secretary, and the death roll was also read, showing that 137 original members of the association had passed away since the reunions were instituted 22 years ago.

A report was presented by the committee named to prepare a memorial to the late John M. Snyder, who had been president of the association from its inception until his death over a year ago. Following the delivery of their report, the association recommended that the committee proceed with the erection of the memorial over his grave in Grace-land cemetery. This committee is composed of E. M. Marshall, Charles McCandless, and L. G. Conkinger.

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 13.—Senator George W. Norris was virtually assured of victory early today in his fight for nomination in the Nebraska senatorial primary.

Returns from 800 out of 2030 precincts gave Norris a lead of 14,000 votes over State Treasurer W. M. Stebbins, endorsed for the Republican nomination by the "Regular" because of Norris's support of Alfred E. Smith in the presidential campaign two years ago.

Indications were that Norris would win by 30,000 and carry every county in the state.

Earlier returns from 720 precincts had given the vote as 53,200 for Norris and 37,360 for Stebbins, with many Norris strongholds still to be heard from.

Ex-Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock was leading Dr. Jennie Calfas, supported by the dry and church groups, by the wide margin of 5 to 1 in the Democratic primary. Hitchcock had carried every precinct at a late hour. He was conceded an even chance of winning the election if he can keep members of his party away from Norris.

Congressman Willis Sears was encountering a hard fight to retain his seat, being closely pressed by Malcolm Baldrige, Omaha attorney and former Yale football player.

Governor Weaver was easily winning the renomination for governor while ex-governor Charles Bryan was clinching the Democratic nomination for the fifth time.

Natural gas was carrying in Lincoln by a 2 to 1 majority after being fought bitterly by coal and railroad men.

For at that particular moment of history Dale "Red" Jackson and Forest O'Brine, resting high above the clouds in their "little orange and yellow bungalow of the sky," the endurance plane "Greater St. Louis" had resisted gravity's unusually inexorable pull which ordains that everything which goes up must come down longer than any other man-made contraption in the history of the world.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—With reports of soaring food prices in canned goods and vegetables in big industrial centers, Secretary of Agriculture Hyde today again assured the nation that there is no danger of a shortage in human food due to the prolonged drought.

After calling upon President Hoover and presenting the latest reports of the Agriculture department on the situation Hyde said: "I have done my best to point out that there is no danger of a shortage in human food. The drought problem is chiefly a livestock and feed problem."

"There is no need for housewives to get panicky over the situation."

Moderate Rally In Stock Market

Stock Market Successfully Resists Efforts Of Bears For New Low Levels

By W. S. COUSINS, International News Service Financial Editor.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—The stock market as a whole resisted the attempts of the bears to force prices to lower levels today, and shortly after the noon period a moderate rally was in force in most of the speculative favorites. Professional buying of Warner Brothers, on the strength of the new financing plans of a powerful banking group was seen in the brisk recovery of that stock to above 29. United States Steel was also a factor in the mid-day rally, forging ahead from 155 1/2 to 157 1/2.

The business and industrial news of the day was unchanged. No further losses were reported in the drought-stricken areas, and there was a brighter prospect for rain in the corn belt. The Iron Age's weekly survey confirmed the earlier reports of a 2 per cent shrinkage in steel mills' operations, production for the country at large being only 52 per cent of mill capacity, against 54 per cent last week.

At the low prices of the day Bethlehem Steel showed a new loss of 1 1/2 points and a new low for the year at 75 1/2. International Nickel broke through to a new low at 20 1/2 and numerous specialties declined to the lowest levels for the move. Consolidated Gold fractured under 100, and most of the active utility stocks were under fire. The selling wave faded out early in the day and the bears were more anxious to cover their shorts than to attempt to push the market lower.

Lina Basquette, Screen Celebrity Attempts Suicide

Famous Screen Star And Dancer, Swallows Quantity Of Poison

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Aug. 13.—Lina Basquette, actress and dancer and former wife of the late Sam Warner, motion picture producer, was near death today after attempting to commit suicide, it was reported by police. The reported attempt of the dancer to end her life came after she had staged a gay party at her home. All of the guests but one had departed when she went into the bathroom of her home and there drained the contents of a bottle of poison, police said.

Found writhing on the floor, the dancer sobbed brokenly that she wanted her baby. The child, Lita, her two-year-old daughter, figured in the news recently when the dancer married FEVEREL Marley, a film comedian. At that time it was reported she had placed the child in the custody of her father's relatives after a settlement had been made. She indignantly denied that she "had given her daughter away."

Physicians at the hospital where the dancer was treated reported that her recovery was doubtful.

SMITHKINS was a live wire, go-getting salesman for the firm of Blanks and Sons. Between the firm and Smithkins there was an agreement that stipulated that the firm would employ him for a period of four years at a stipulated annual salary to be paid in monthly installments and that the salesman, Smithkins, in turn would promise to serve faithfully in soliciting orders and not to divulge any business secrets of the firm to any of the firm's competitors.

Smithkins went about his work, meeting with fair success, but one day he received a letter from the firm telling him to take a month's vacation, and adding that although he, Smithkins, was still in the employ of the firm and at its disposal, he would no longer be required to perform any duties.

This was a shock to go-getting Smithkins. He caught the next train back to the office. But as soon as he entered he was ordered to get out. Two days later the firm issued a circular announcing that Smithkins no longer was authorized to transact any business in its behalf.

When Smithkins found this out he was speechless, but not without resources. He immediately filed suit for breach of agreement.

Park this afternoon. There is a lot of New Castle loyalty on the part of these former residents, Pa New has discovered. Even though not residing in the county seat of Lawrence, they still have a lot of interest in this city and community.

Opening of the Perry highway from Harlansburg to Mercer adds another fine road to the improved highways in Lawrence county. This county has many miles of concrete roads leading to all parts of the state. The one connecting link needed on any thorough route from this county at the present time is not in Lawrence county, but in Mercer county, the stretch between New Wilmington and Mercer.

Pa New is rather interested in the new endurance record set by Aviators Jackson and O'Brien in St. Louis today. While it seems almost unbelievable, yet these fliers were in the air three weeks ago, when Pa New drove through the city of St. Louis, and they haven't been down to the ground since. They plan to remain in the air for a long time, setting their goal at 1,000 hours.

They were thus unable to save any of their clothing or household effects. Neighbors, afraid that the flames would spread to the barn and other outbuildings, sent in a call for assistance to the New Castle department, Assistant Chief H. When the firemen arrived on the scene, they found the house almost consumed and as there was little danger of the blaze communicating to any of the outbuildings which were a considerable distance away, they returned to the city. Neighbors took care of members of the Walker family last night.

Mr. Walker stated that the fire had gained considerable headway when discovered, and for this reason, he felt it unsafe to risk his life attempting to put it out, knowing that the drum of gasoline was stored in the basement.

After farming there for many years, in 1825 he laid out a townsite and so beautiful was the scenery at this point that a man named George A. that it is the first time in the 66 years of the organization that a state meeting has been held in this city, and second because of the fact that C. W. Herman Hess, well known resident of the city, is grand chancellor of the Domain of Pennsylvania, an honor that is seldom accorded any particular district.

Plans Complete. At the meeting of the executive committee of the Lawrence, Mercer, Butler and Beaver district, which is playing host to the state organizations, held last night in K. of P. hall, for the central fire department building, East street, reports were made by all committees and showed that all had functioned properly and that all details in preparation for the gigantic event had been completed.

The committee on reservations has been very busy in the past few days, assigning quarters in the various hotels and other places, to the delegates who are planning to attend. The delegates will start to arrive here on Sunday and by Monday it is anticipated that a majority will be present.

The Castle will be headquarters for the organization. Business sessions of the Knights of Pythias will be held in the Cathedral, while the ladies will hold their sessions in the ballroom of The Castle.

Starts Monday Evening. Activities of the two organizations will start Monday evening at 6 o'clock with the Grand Temple banquet for Pythian Sisters in The Castle.

Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock, D. S. T., opening exercises of the Grand Lodge and Grand Temple will be held in the Cathedral on Lincoln avenue. Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock, D. S. T., in the Scottish Rite Cathedral there will be the annual banquet, reception to Grand lodge officers and a dance. This will be for all Knights of Pythias, Pythian Sisters and their families. Reservations for this event must be made with Don Dinsmore, 506 Court street, this city.

Wednesday evening at 6:15, D. S. T., the annual banquet of Pythian Veterans, members of the organization for 25 years or more, will be held in the Elks home. At 8 o'clock the same evening in the Scottish Rite Cathedral, there will be an entertainment and dance for all Pythians, Pythian Sisters and their families.

Invitations have been extended to the Grand lodge officers of all other states to be present, as well as the officers of the Supreme lodge. The Supreme lodge is in session this week in Florida and it is probable that some one of the Supreme lodge will be here. There are also a number of state officers in other states, who are also expected here for the event.

STAR LORE DO NOT BLAME THE WEATHER MAN

By ARTHUR DEV. CARPENTER

It is proverbial that the "weather man" is blamed for bad weather, forgotten in good weather. But in reality, he does nothing to the weather. There arises a Hatfield now and then who professes to be a rainmaker, and who, inducing upon the credulity of the dry country farmer, worms thousands of dollars from his bank account by contracting for rain at a thousand dollars an inch. It is the old proverb of P. T. Barnum: "The people like to be fooled." Firing of heavy artillery never brought rain. Release of gases has never produced moisture precipitation. But meteorologists are not utterly helpless in forecasting the weather a few hours in advance.

Bob Clarke, paid tribute to his old teacher, Mrs. Lavina Patterson Durant, and recalled incidents which happened.

Is Oldest Member. Mary Agnew recalled how they had slid down the banisters of the building during the lunch hour, when those who carried their lunches to school were hard put to while away the time. This recalled to the mind of Mrs. Cubbsion that this was the method she used in getting out of the building when lightning struck the school.

Mrs. Alice Pollard O'Donnell of Pittsburgh, who is 84 years of age, and the oldest member of the association at yesterday's reunion, stated that she had started to school in New Castle in a one-room building known by the name of Pollock building.

Among those who attended there were Mary and James Pollock, and the Reynolds girls. She later attended the Reynoldstown building.

Mrs. Ole Sutherland Kirk, vice president of the association recalled how she attempted to outwit one of her teachers, and of how the latter finally got the best of her.

Others who were called on for remarks were Alderman O. H. P. Green, Ed. Duff, Mrs. Nora Linton, Mrs. Agnes Douds Kennedy, Robert M. Hainer, and Mrs. Alf Wylie.

Anniversary of Death. In reading the minutes, Mrs. James

K. Pollock, recalled the fact that yesterday's reunion date, marked the 15th anniversary of the death of the late W. N. Aiken. Of the original members of the association who were present when it was organized in 1906, the roll call showed 13 were in attendance yesterday.

It was voted to raise the time limit for membership qualification to all those who had attended school at the Reynoldstown building between the time it was built and 1900, thus making several hundred more eligible. They will be invited to attend the reunion next year.

It was voted to hold the next reunion on the day preceding Old Timers day, and to retain the same officers for the ensuing year. They are:

President—Anna Tobin McGurk. Vice presidents—William G. Dunn, Fred L. Rentz, William P. Butz, Mrs. Ole Sutherland Kirk, and Charles McCandless.

Secretary—Mrs. James K. Pollock, Sr.

Treasurer—Robert H. Wylie. Regrets were received from Mrs. Mary Carruthers Sumner of Wilkinsburg, who is now 90 years of age and too feeble to attend the reunion; C. H. Taylor of St. Joseph's Mo., and William L. Aiken of Sharon, who was unable to be present because of a recent operation.

The members then disbanded to meet at Big Run (Cascade Park) at 6 o'clock, where a bountiful basket picnic was enjoyed and the hours further spent in recalling old times.

CAPTAIN HAWKS AFTER RECORD

the 200 spectators were aware that he was off on the 2,500-mile flight.

Hopes For 12-Hour Record. Hawks hopes to complete the transcontinental flight in 12 hours, averaging 250 miles an hour. He will make refueling stops at Albuquerque, N. M., Wichita and Indianapolis.

The present record for a flight from Los Angeles to New York is held by Colonel Lindbergh, who with his wife negotiated the distance in 14 hours and 45 minutes last Easter Sunday. Last week, Hawks shattered the East-West record of Colonel Roscoe Turner when he made the transcontinental flight in 14 hours and 50 minutes.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Aug. 13.—Maintaining a 250-mile an hour speed schedule which will allow him to shatter the west to east transcontinental speed record of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, Captain Frank M. Hawks roared out of the local airport at 6:46 a. m. (M. S. T.) after landing here at 6:46 a. m. for refueling.

He took on 90 gallons of gas and headed directly for Wichita, Kas., where he will make his next refueling.

(International News Service) WICHITA, Kas., Aug. 13.—Capt. Frank Hawks, seeking to break the transcontinental speed record for airplanes now held by Col. and Mrs. Charles Lindbergh, arrived at Wichita at 10:28 a. m. refueled his plane and sped on his way east at 10:35 a. m.

The stop here was Capt. Hawk's second on the trip. He left Los Angeles at 2:16 a. m. and refueled his plane at Albuquerque, N. M., at 6:43 a. m.

without lights and I went over and asked the driver for his license.

"That's none of your business," he said. "What happened after that I am not sure. I remember the car starting out, I remember I was on the running board, but I do not remember how I hit the tree. They tell me the tree is set well back from the road and it appears to me that I must have been pushed or struck from the running board. I did not draw my gun, and I did nothing but what I was authorized to do under the law."

Residents of Neshannock township petitioned me in 1928 to break up the practice of necking and pecking in the lanes of the township. They are the people who elected me, and I have felt that their petition was a mandate to me to enforce the parking laws. I have seldom made arrests, but have warned the parkers to either put on their lights or drive on.

Constable Rees and his family are in financial straits at the present time. Unless some one comes to his aid it seems certain that he will be put into the highway with his family and household goods.

When firemen arrived on the scene they found the one side of the home all ablaze and laid several lines of hose to put out the fire. An alarm from Box 62 called all the equipment from Central station and No. 6 department to the scene of the fire, so they had plenty of facilities available to quell the blaze.

BUS PATRON IS INJURED WHEN WINDOWS BREAK

Windows Are Broken By Projecting Parts Of Truck In Passing Bus

The P. & O. System dispatcher reported to the police Tuesday that C. A. Peterson, of 1217 Finch street, while a passenger on P. & O. Bus Pennsylvania License 04-823 enroute west on State street at Sankey street, had sustained a bad cut on the lip, when two windows of the bus were broken by a projecting support of a passing truck, and the broken glass was scattered about the car. The truck was enroute east on State street and the projecting support was used in supporting the bed of the truck. The truck failed to stop and the license plates were so dirty that it was impossible to get the number.

Police were scouring Erie county for the unknown assailants. No motive for the attack could be given.

Mrs. Meyers told police that the men broke in and after tying her set her clothing on fire and fired the rug and curtains in the room. The home was only slightly damaged.

The King Felicitates.
Lipton's $400.
Miss Crane's Nine Poets.
Labor Airplane War.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1930, King Features
Synd., Inc.)

Last Sunday was President Hoover's 55th birthday anniversary. Everybody hopes he will live 56 years more and that his highest ambition centered on public service may be realized.

The British king sent "warmest felicitations" to the new president. The initials at the end represent two Latin words, "Rex Imperator," meaning "king, emperor." You might say: "It must give a man a thrill to sign those initials, so much more imposing than anything a president could tack on to his name." But to the king, whose messages are all written by somebody else, it's an old story. He may not even know that he sent the cable.

Sir Thomas Lipton will soon arrive to see his yacht win or lose. He is 80, and the prize he seeks was won by an American boat when Lipton was a 1-year-old baby. It would please everybody if the genial old Irishman could take the cup back with him. We don't need it, and our young millionaire yacht-builders would enjoy going over after it.

Yacht races mean little to the average man, but a few words that Lipton said to reporters mean EVERYTHING TO MILLIONS.

He told how he first came to this country, at 17, in the steerage, adding: "I went to work in the south, saved money, and returned home with $400 in my pocket, and I thought I was the richest man in the world."

He wasn't the richest man, but he was rich, because he knew how to save. Lipton has business ability, understands advertising and trade. But all his business intelligence would have done him no good without the first $400. That money enabled him to start something.

And starting, he succeeded. A great majority of all Americans did, too. Less than $100, 85 per cent of those past 65 are dependent on others, and in that country where average income and capacity to save mean independence in old age.

The charming Miss Nathalia Crane, recently an infant prodigy, and 17 years old Monday, had a birthday party, and told about her new book, an epic poem called "Pocahontas." In that book, which some Wall Street bankers will devour, the Russian "Reds" conquer America, sweeping along the coast, seizing everything. Then America's leadership asserts itself under the leadership of nine poets (please don't laugh) and the beautiful Pocahontas, remarkably like Miss Crane, probably, reigns as queen of the United States.

That is quite as reasonable as things that some of our "best financial minds" say about the "Red menace." So that as it may, Russia's government has spent here in the last 60 days, $40,500,000 buying agricultural machinery.

THE NEW GAME

Southern California is considered the playground of America, so whatever is new in the Realm of Play, it is expected that Los Angeles is not going to overlook it.

Miniature golf put-put courses, have captivated the nervous Americans who never do anything moderately and a new industry has been born, the income from which the Nation may bridge over the industrial weakness of 1930.

Just how it has captivated Los Angeles may be understood by the following figures and, incidentally, the exchequer of that city is being enlarged by the contribution of license fees.

Courses licensed in Los Angeles, 173.
Estimated number building, 35.
Estimated number in county, including Los Angeles, 400.
Minimum cost of construction (early courses) $2500.

Maximum cost at present time, $9000.
Average cost of a single course to date, $6500.

Estimated daily patronage, city and county, 600,000.
Average daily gross income, average course, $300.

Maximum daily gross so far reported, $1100.

Estimated weekly income from sport, city and county, $150,000.

Just a few months ago America awoke to see groups of men doing strange things to corner lots; looked tolerantly at the misguided goofs who were batting a little ball around a trick course, and just now is commencing to comprehend the fact that a big thing has happened.

While only 173 golf courses are licensed in Los Angeles, according to official figures at the City License Bureau, many are of the opinion that there are a larger number than this operating, many having failed to secure licenses. Also others estimated that possibly seventy-five or one hundred new courses are under construction instead of the thirty-five mentioned. Other figures were obtained from the offices of the City Clerks of the various California towns.

C. K. Levitt, chief designer, estimates that 60,000 persons play daily in Los Angeles County.

"Despite the increase in the number of courses, the major links are more than holding their own," he said. "Some of the smaller and earlier courses are showing a falling off in patronage."

Public Is Especially Interested In Employment For Building Trades And Possibility Of Making It Easier To Finance Family Construction

Selection by President Hoover of a commission made up of the heads of 19 national business, professional, trade and civic bodies to promote home ownership is viewed sympathetically by the country. There is much interest as to the method by which the financing of such operations may be facilitated. It is also believed that such results may be obtained would relieve idleness in the building trades.

"Taking a hint, apparently, from recent demonstrations of Congressional coolness toward appropriations for his commissions," says the MANCHESTER UNION, "THE WHITE HOUSE has taken the hint and has made provision has already been made to meet the expenses of the inquiry. A great deal is heard of the idea that the American home is doomed. One does not need to share the views of the pessimists to realize that it is undergoing changes, and that there is abundant reason for such a comprehensive study as Mr. Hoover desires to have made. Especially in some of the big cities home ownership has dwindled. While title to the property is by no means an absolute essential to the making of a real home, it is true enough that ownership is likely to promote that result. There is, too, the important consideration of the advancement of thrift through such investment. Altogether, there is in this matter a genuine opportunity for investigation that will be amply worth while from the point of view of the community as well as the individual."

The soundness of such investments is pointed out by the PITTSBURGH POST-GAZETTE, with the conclusion that "the making of a real home would be promoted if money that has been going into unwise speculation could be diverted to building," and that paper remarks as to the nature of the national effort: "Every city has its organizations devoted to the object of better housing, and the entire effort of the world of entertainment is revolving around the proposition of taking people from their homes."

The value of the work as a means of overcoming business depression is recognized by the LEXINGTON LEADER, while the WHEELING INTELLIGENCER points out: "Much of the unemployment has been among building-trade workers and the producers of building supplies. More home building, therefore, will substantially relieve unemployment in the most important lines. More home construction and ownership will also make for national general conservatism and greater stability."

DIFFICULTIES

Because the task is difficult don't hardly let it go.

The quicker the thing to do the greater joy it know

Who stick it out and see it through

Who try and fail and try anew And work it over, bit and bit Until they do accomplish it.

"I can't do this," the weakling cries, and gives it up as vain. But still the harder is the feat, the greater is the gain.

One thing is sure: he never will Who says "I can't and then sits still."

But he retains a chance to win Who has no thought of giving in.

Twist, worth and mediocrity, the difference is wide.

The good man sees his problems through, the other lets them slide.

The strong man at a task will stick

And work it out through thin or thick

The weaker cries: I plainly see

That job is much too hard for me."

Because the task is difficult too many tire and quit.

But that's the time to summon up your patience and your grit.

And that's the time to prove your skill.

So stick it out and work until You justify your faith that you Can do what any man can do.

Make Lesson Propaganda Of Education

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Such is the title of an article I wrote for the Journal of Applied Psychology, March 1921. In it I gave some evidence on the power of suggestion as a means of motivating illiterate soldiers. The same principle ought to apply in our relation to our children in the home.

Soon after the World War I was assigned by the war department to train teachers, develop methods of instruction, and to write text materials for teaching illiterate soldiers in the regular army, about 2,000 of whom were assembled in the First Recruit Educational Center at Camp Upton. I purposely set out to try to make as the warp and woof of the lessons a propaganda for that school for more education by the soldier and his home folk, for the United States government and for American ideals. I assumed that all suggestions for proper habits and ideals would be most effective when the learner unwittingly becomes the teacher of those duties and ideals which it is desired he shall get. The learner was not told therefore, that he should sleep with his windows open, that he should brush his teeth and clothes, stand erect, sit erect, take care of his appearance and to respect the great men and the flag of our country. Instead, the pupil became the reader and the writer of a letter to a friend in which he says that he has developed these desirable traits, attitudes and virtues, suggesting indirectly or directly to this friend at home that he could do the same. Throughout the student suggested to himself the very traits and virtues which he seems to be suggesting to his friends.

The first sentence he learned to read was: "I want to learn to read," and the fifth "I want to learn to write a letter home." In his eighth lesson he read as a sample letter: "Dear Nellie: I got your letter and the sergeant read it for me. The next letter I am going to read myself, for I am learning to read and write English. I am writing this letter myself. It is my first letter. I hope you like it. I like the army very well. I want you to see me drill. I can drill very well. We drill every day."

Among other samples which he read were these:

"I am sorry that I did not go to school at home, I did not think then that I could learn, but I am sure now that I can learn. I can write letters to Nellie and I can read her letters to me."

"I have read a few letters by Theodore Roosevelt to his boys, and I want to learn to read some speeches by Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States."

I kept with the permission of the writers, copies of "sore" letters which they actually sent home, which contained whole phrases and sentences from their reading and writing lessons. Undoubtedly they wrote home much which they at first did not believe and over which they had not always been enthusiastic.

Furthermore, many of those at home wrote back that they were doing some of the very things suggested in the soldier's letters.

If you have been skillful in emphasizing similar suggestions with your children you have discovered a very powerful means of aiding you in directing and controlling their conduct.

Peter's Adventures

by FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

QUEEN ANT LOOKS DOWN ON HER HOME

Peter stared at the Ant, who all by herself, had just built a palace complete from top to bottom.

"What an architect you are!" cried he. "And you are the very first Queen I've heard of who ever did any work. Before I met Queen Bee I always thought queens were vain things who did nothing all day but sit on thrones and wear golden crowns on their heads. Queen Bee was sweet and kindly, and saved my life from her angry subjects when they would have stung me. I shall never forget her. Just the same, Queen Bee did not do very much work herself. She let her subjects wait and tend upon her."

Queen Ant made a queer sound that Peter decided was a chuckle.

"Yes, I've always heard that Queen Bee was lazy," answered Queen Ant. "And between you and me, I don't see what fun she gets out of life. I would be bored to death if I had to sit by and watch others doing what I wanted to. However, what Queen Bee does or doesn't do is none of my business. I am a Mother Ant, and like all Mother Ants, I am a Queen in my own right." Queen Ant stopped talking, and for a moment looked at the ground. Then she raised her bright eyes to Peter's.

"Stranger, how you will make up your mind to do one thing and then do another, isn't it?" Peter nodded, and Queen Ant continued.

"This morning for the first time in my life I left the earth and went for a fly in the sky. My wings behaved beautifully, and I had a wonderful time flitting with the breezes. I never had the least idea the world was such a large place, nor so beautiful, and my own home so small. The big looked like a mud ball. I looked down upon the mighty mansion where Two-

Gentlemen! Consider Your Wives ... heat with GAS!

IT'S not a woman's job ... least of all your wife's ... to stoke and struggle with the furnace.

It's hard, exasperating, tiring work for a woman ... it's dangerous, too. Painful injury and disfigurement lurk in those frequent backdraught explosions.

And danger to health is ever-present with the old fashioned hand fired heating ways ... danger created by the continual changing in house temperature ... too hot when the furnace is fired, too cold when the fire dies down ... that's how common colds get their start.

THINK, too, how hand firing ties a woman down. She can't go shopping, visiting or leave the home for long without paying the penalty of coming back to a cold house. If there are small children to be protected, she just can't go out at all.

As for the dirt ... well, ask your wife. She can tell you plenty.

Take this burdensome, mind-wearying load off your wife's shoulders! Here's how—a down payment of only $5 will put a Surface Combustion Gas Burner in your present coal furnace and convert it into an automatic gas heating plant. You won't need to pay another cent until October and then you have 24 months for the balance. Just $1 monthly in December, January and February, too. And, if you give us the order this month you save 10% and get the job for only $166.50.

Put in automatic gas heat before another Winter slips by and you will be rewarded out of proportion to the small cost. You'll have a cheerier, happier wife, the whole family will have better Wintertime health than ever before, and as for yourself, you can sleep an extra hour or so in the morning, for there won't ever at any time be any more fires to build ... no ... never!

So, gentlemen, give the wife a "break." Send for our Heating Man to give you a free estimate on gas heat. No obligation, whatsoever! And—act now while there still is time to save that 10% for Summer Installation!

Phillips' Milk of Magnesia

For Troubles due to Acid Indigestion, Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Headache, Gas, Nausea

About two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been overstimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia just a tasteless dose in water. It is pleasant, efficient and harmless. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

It is the quick method. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

Milk of Magnesia has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

Motor Club Members Start Active Work In A. B. C. Drive Here

With the announcement of the New Castle Motor club of its Always Be Careful campaign among motorists of the city, has come a most favorable reaction among the drivers of the city. For some time it has been felt that a very small percentage of drivers were making things unsafe for the careful driver and for the pedestrian and it is believed that the Motor club campaign will be of value.

Already a number of reports have been received in the office of the Motor club and these reports will be followed by letter under Mayor Gillespie's signature, warning the motorist that a recurrence of the offense will result in a fine.

Double parking, cutting through traffic, beating red lights, these and a host of other motor evils will be corrected, it is hoped. The campaign lasts until August 31, and is in no sense a campaign of snooping or informing.

No arrests or fines will result from the reports, only a friendly warning. However, this warning, friendly as it is, is a notice to the offender that he has violated the city and state traffic laws and he must desist or pay the penalty.

College Professor Says Business Men Needed By Students

Dr. Dawson Tells Local Kiwanis Club Vocational Guidance Facts

When the question of vocational guidance arises in the mind of the modern student the business men of the community should arise to the occasion instead of the school.

This was the gist of a talk, "Limits of Vocational Guidance," delivered at noon today to New Castle Kiwanis club by Dr. Charles A. Dawson, head of the English department of Westminster college. Judge R. L. Hildebrand, president of the club, presided at the meeting, which was held in the Elks home.

The importance of correct vocational guidance was emphasized by the speaker, but the necessity of having students guided by business men was held as of paramount importance. "Men in such organizations as the Kiwanis clubs could not think of handing over vocational guidance to professors or vocational counselors, but they themselves could bring guidance through cooperation," Dr. Dawson declared.

The speaker said that the two most important requisites for the student are, a technical skill, in order that a living may be earned, and enthusiasm for work.

The speaker was secured for the club meeting by the vocational guidance committee of which J. C. Lechner is the chairman.

Five Arrested In Taxi-Cab Warfare

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Aug. 13.—Five more persons were arrested and another taxicab driver was found beaten unconscious by men whom he claimed were fellow drivers as the cab war here continued to flare up today.

Henry J. Arnold, 35, of Curry, Pa., the beaten driver, who was found by police at Seventh avenue and Smithfield streets this morning, charged that union drivers are contributing to a fund to pay slugs for attacks upon non-union drivers or those who went back to work before the final settlement of the recent strike was made.

Arnold told police he received a call early this morning to take a man from the Seventh Avenue Hotel to the Western Union office on Smithfield. Five men leaped from the doorway and dragged him to the street, he said.

The five men arrested gave their names as August Runzo, 24; Edward Eldridge, 26; Walter Peterson, 22; Harry Foster, 25, and Elmer Richardson, 25. They were arrested in an automobile near the Yellow Cab garage when a driver, whose name was not learned, told police he was being followed by the men.

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Aug. 13.—Ruthlessly slugging a store manager who offered no resistance, and beating a customer into unconsciousness, two youthful bandits held up the P. H. Butler branch store at Portersfield and Hemlock streets and escaped with loot totaling only $57.

James Gregg, manager, was waiting on two male customers when the bandits entered with drawn guns. All three were backed into a rear room. One of the youths struck Gregg with the butt of a gun and then took $32 from his purse. Louis Halansky, one of the customers, was slow in putting up his hands and the other bandit slugged him senseless.

The two then looted the cash register of $25 and fled.

Halansky was removed to Presbyterian hospital in a serious condition.

ST. LOUIS FLIERS PASS OLD RECORD OF HUNTER BROS.

tually been in the air in sustained flight longer than any other plane in the world's history an instant after 8:32½ this morning when the record was tied, but it is a rule that an endurance plane must remain in the air one hour longer than the previous record in order to set an official new mark.

The setting of an endurance record, while not a new experience to the "red-headed" Jackson and his buddy, O'Brien, was particularly sweet because it enabled them to regain the laurels wrested from them by the four flying Hunter brothers in the "City of Chicago" on the Fourth of July.

Pass Old Record
Lambert-St. Louis Field, Aug. 13.—They dusted out a niche in the hall of aviation fame at 8:32½ a. m. today for the "little orange and yellow" bungalow of the sky, otherwise known as the "Greater St. Louis," endurance plane.

For as the second hand on the watch of the official observer of the endurance flight hesitated at 8:32½, the "Greater St. Louis" tied the brief lived world's record of 553 hours, 41 minutes and 30 seconds for sustained flight set by the flying Hunter brothers in their plane "City of Chicago" on the Fourth of July.

The occupants of the "little orange and yellow bungalow," Dale "Red" Jackson and Forrest O'Brien, were home in the aviation hall of fame and didn't need new accommodations.

The two persistent pilots sailed the "St. Louis Robin" into aviation immortality last summer with the then world record of 420 hours.

When the flying coal miners of Sparta, Ill., swooped into fame with the "City of Chicago," and pushed the "St. Louis Robin" out of the limelight the persistent pilots, Jackson and O'Brien, announced their intention of mounting to the clouds again to win back their championship laurels.

With fame once more in their grasp it is not the intention of the pilots to have it whisked away so soon again and they have set the tremendous goal of 1,000 hours for their flight.

Threatening skies and unseasonable weather which brought winds with a fall bite to them kept down the crowd at the field. About 1,000 had gathered when the record was officially tied and steady streams of automobiles pouring in from all sides gave promise that the crowd would double for the shattering of the record one hour later.

A thunderous cheer rose skyward as the record was tied and the grateful monoplane dipped in salute as if the pilots had heard despite the thunder of their roaring propeller. A raucous voiced siren also added to the din.

A light rain began to sprinkle upon the watchers, but no one sought shelter and heads tilted skyward to see this marvel of the 20th century, a man-made planet which made the seven wonders of the world sink to side show insignificance.

Lindberghs Leave Massachusetts On Way To New York

Dr. And Mrs. Harry A. Garfield
Take First Ride In Plane,
Lindbergh Pilots

(International News Service) WILMAMSTOWN, Mass., Aug. 13.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Mrs. Lindbergh left the North-Adams Airport today in Mrs. Lindbergh's new plane, with Mrs. Lindbergh at the controls.

Lindbergh would not say where he was going, but his destination was thought to be New York, from where he was expected to proceed to Washington to receive a congressional medal.

The departure this morning was under clear still skies, and was uneventful.

The Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh awoke at the field shortly after eight o'clock accompanied by Dr. Harry A. Garfield, President of Williams College, and Mrs. Garfield. After a brief warming up of the motor of his plane Col. Lindbergh took Dr. and Mrs. Garfield up for their first flight. Lindbergh said some years ago in returning to fly that she would never go up because the only person she would fly with was Lindbergh, when she came down she said that she had enjoyed her initial experience in the air immensely.

Garfield is the son of the married President of the United States.

Drought Hits County Fairs

Exhibits Will Be Fewer In State Exhibitions It Is Feared

STATE FARM SHOW
SAME AS USUAL

(From News Bureau)
(State Capital)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 13.—The prolonged drought which has gripped most parts of Pennsylvania in recent weeks will have its effect on the various agricultural exhibits now getting under way in the State. So bad have conditions been in Adams county that one fair has been called off because of the dry weather.
Farmers who annually take pride in exhibiting their prize corn, potatoes, pumpkins, vegetables and other farm produce this year at their local fairs in many cases will either have to enter inferior products or not exhibit at all.
The 1931 State Farm Products Show which will be held in January is not expected to be materially affected by the present dry weather in the opinion of C. G. Jordan, Secretary of Agriculture. In many sections of the State the drought is less serious than others. It is from these sections, Jordan says, that the prize exhibits must come.
"Pennsylvania is a big State," Jordan says. "There are some sections of the State where the drought is less serious than others. These sections will produce their usual good crops and the 1931 farm show will not suffer because of the present dry weather."
The 1931 show is to be held for the first time in the new nine acre building now under construction here. Funds for the structure were appropriated by the last legislature. The building is to be finished in about two more months.

Algernon: "I say, do you Americans ever play Ping-Pong over heah?"
Betty: "Oh, sure! My motor always did until I changed to Freedom Oil."

FREEDOM GASOLINE AND MOTOR OILS

THE tell-tale "ping-ping, pong-pong" of a carbon-filled motor is bad news alike to man or maid. It steals fuel and robs you of power.

Users of Freedom gasoline and its companion product—Freedom Perfect Motor Oil—have ended carbon troubles forever. They have found that Freedom Perfect is different. That it contains no hard carbon . . . and less soft carbon than ordinary oils. And that it assures more hours of smooth, quiet operation, a longer-lived motor.

Freedom Perfect originates in the heart of the Pennsylvania oil country. That makes it good. Then it's super-refined and made wax-free by special Freedom methods. That makes it better!

Bo Broadway by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

By Central Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—In a Wall Street office the other day the stock quotation ticker was disconnected when it was meandering along under the impetus of desultory business. Asked the reason for the ticker's inactivity, the head of the office replied: "Nobody wants to look at it any more, and it makes too much noise."

DUCKING FACTS
That's a fair example of the way a lot of men are trying to wriggle out of the existing business slump. Others are indulging in a wild and weird brand of hop-head optimism. Every time there's a spurt in some branch of industry and several hundred artisans are given employment The Optimistic drag out their Couc beads and mumble: "Every day, in every way, business is getting better and better."
Most mistakes and failures can be summed up as follows: (1) Ignorance of fact. (2) Ignoring or neglecting facts. (3) Willful shirking of unpleasant facts. (4) Timid shrinking from facts or fearing to investigate them.
Business depression today is a fact. It isn't the first time we've encountered such a situation. In all human probability it won't be the last. The way to dissipate it is to take it full measure, roll up our sleeves and wade in.
Sheering at it won't help. Baritoneing it won't help. To sling custard pies at it won't help. Sprinkling rose water on it is worse than useless. Chloride of lime, and plenty of it, is what's needed.

PLENTY IDLE
Listen to a report by a New York parish priest:
"Whatever the statistics of unemployment may be, whether the number of idle workers runs into many millions or not, I do not know, but I do know, and so do most other pastors in New York, that not for many years have there been so many people out of work, and in such keen distress because of unemployment. Through my receptions rooms last week there passed nearly 200 of my parishioners; each one begging for help to secure a job; or a job for Jimmy or Jane, or Mary or Bob, thrown out of work without fault of their own.
Moreover there is discontent; there is sullen anger in addition to bewilderment and distress. The poor are asking why they should suffer when the rich multiply their wealth; and not only the very poor ask that difficult question; for hundreds of families that would not generally be classed among the poor—respectable people, usually quite safe and fairly prosperous—are now sinking down among the indigent class. And upon these smouldering sparks of sullen anger of justifiable discontent, are being blown the winds of the revolutionary spirit. The soil is rich for the seeds of Bolshevist agitation. And they are being scattered lavishly. I believe that if today, or tomorrow, there appeared a man of magnetic personality, an apostle of social revolt, fires would soon flare up in many places; possibly to meet in some great conflagration."

"ON THE CUFF"
Broadway is a good barometer of national prosperity. Broadway exists on the largesse of The-Out-of-Town-Man-About-Town. And today Mazda Lane is living "on the cuff." The groups that for months "played the sidewalk" are dwindling. They've entered non-professional, many of them menial, pursuits to meet the room rent.
Spinrad, the barber in the Palace basement, is authority for the statement that "Broadway is wearing it long now."
There are 15 shows on The Lane today. Last year at this time there were 25. And so it goes.

Bulkley Leading In Ohio Primary For U. S. Senator

Former Congressman Robert J. Bulkley Of Cleveland Looks Like Winner

GOVERNOR COOPER MINUS OPPOSITION

(International News Service) COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 13.—Former Congressman Robert J. Bulkley, of Cleveland, running on a platform urging repeal of the prohibition amendment, was leading by a margin of almost two to one early today in Ohio's primary contest for the democratic nomination for U. S. Senator.

In 5473 out of 8956 precincts, Bulkley's vote was 45,184, while his nearest opponent, William J. Durbin, of Kenton, received 26,743 votes. Charles V. Truax, of Bucyrus, was running third with 21,151.

In the democratic race for Governor, however, George White, of Marietta, a dry, led his opponent, Stephen Young of Cleveland, who campaigned for modification, by almost two to one, thereby receiving prohibition support from the democrats which compared favorably with the west support given Bulkley.

Returns from 5626 precincts gave White 82,750 votes and Young 47,621. Cooper Unopposed

These two contests were the outstanding races in an otherwise dull primary.

Governor Myers Y. Cooper, and several other state officers, as well as U. S. Senator Roscoe C. McCulloch, were without opposition on the republican slate. Clarence J. Brown, present secretary of state, opposed by Edward J. Hummel for renomination by the republicans, was running far ahead.

Ross Ake, of Canton, present treasurer of state, was running behind Harry S. Day, his nearest rival, by a vote of 76,172 to 45,677 in 3916 precincts in the only other republican contest of note.

Two In Speeding Machine Seriously Injured When Car Hits Pennsy Engine

(International News Service)

CHESTER, Pa., Aug. 13.—Two members of a prominent and wealthy Chester county family were injured possibly fatally in a grade crossing accident near West Chester early today.

The couple, Frank W. Bicking, 23, and Miss Betty Gilpin Anderson, 24-year old granddaughter of former Congressman John B. Robinson of West Chester, were speeding back to West Chester after a visit here when their automobile crashed into a freight engine of the Pennsylvania railroad at the Concordville Crossing.

Both the youth and girl were brought to the Chester hospital where it is said their chances for recovery are slight. Both sustained internal injuries.

The accident occurred about 2 a. m. Bicking, members of the train crew said, was speeding 60 miles an hour and failed to see the engine in time to halt. The car was demolished by the impact and the couple was buried in the wreckage.

Members of the train crew extricated the couple and they were rushed to this city in the ambulance of the media fire company.

Bicking is the son of a prominent paper manufacturer of Downingtown.

Community Chest Successful Here

Directors Appreciate Response—Last Subscriptions For Year Are Now Due

The Community Chest has been a success in New Castle. It is wonderful the directors report, how the subscribers have responded. Last year they pledged $64,975 and thus far have paid in $48,463, making a balance of $16,512 yet unpaid.

The Chest board is asking that the subscribers who have not paid their subscriptions do so this month as the agencies are much in need of it. It will be recalled that last year each agency was carefully audited by an expert accountant and the agencies were only allowed amounts for the actual running expenses of their institutions. This means that the agencies have been running on limited amounts and are much in need of the unpaid subscriptions.

The Chest board is asking that you pay in your unpaid subscriptions immediately.

Over 61,000 Miles Of Roads Improved In Pennsylvania

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 13.—Local authorities of Pennsylvania spent $63,362,125 on public highways other than state roads last year and on the first day of 1930 had a balance of $18,409,175 available for such work, the United States bureau of roads announces.

During 1929, local authorities had available for local roads in the Keystone State a total of $81,791,300. Of this amount, $20,233,030 was a balance from the previous year and $61,558,270 represented income during the year.

The great portion of the income—$20,903,570—came from the local road tax levy. Other sources of the yearly income were: $14,161,000 from the general fund for highways; $8,217,700 gasoline tax receipts; $3,709,920 local bond sale receipts; $6,000,000 transferred from state to local roads, and $6,554,900 in miscellaneous income.

At the beginning of the present year the local highway system of Pennsylvania, exclusive of state roads, embraced 77,366 miles of roadway, 61,067 miles of which were improved.

C., Aug. 13.—A record increase in the number of potential trophies for the army of American anglers as well as in the crop for the catch of commercial fishermen is shown by the census of the fish planted in the streams, lakes, and coastal waters of the country by the bureau of fisheries during the last fiscal year, according to M. C. James, assistant chief of the bureau's division of fish culture.

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1930, over 205,000,000 game varieties including trout, bass, sunfish, landlocked salmon, catfish, etc., were deposited in the lakes and streams of the country, and in addition to these strictly game fishes, some 300,000,000 additional fish of species which are sought by both commercial fishermen and sportsmen are planted.

The bureau distributed, through more than 70 hatcheries and substations throughout the country, large numbers of varieties which are the mainstay of the important fishery industry. The shad and the cod, haddock, pollock and flounder in the England coastal waters, the salmon of the Pacific coast, and the whitefish and herring of the Great Lakes, were replenished by generous plantings.

The bureau's total distribution of fish, fry and eggs totaled over 7,500,000,000 for all species, an all time high record for federal fish culture. Of this total, over 6½ billion comprise commercial marine species, the eggs of which are available in huge quantities from the inshore and offshore fisheries of the North Atlantic.

Secretary Davis Suggests Better Prison Treatment

Labor Secretary Believes Prisoners Should Be Treated As Hospital Patients

(International News Service)

SCHWENKVILLE, Pa., Aug. 13.—Treatment of criminals as "patients" rather than prisoners was advocated by James J. Davis, secretary of labor, in an address to the first annual outing of the Montgomery County Magistrates' association.

Asserting his belief that even "hardened criminals are incurably sick in soul," Davis advised further leniency in our present parole and pardon laws. "I believe that in the future our aim will be to place criminals under treatment as patients, and not merely to dump them into institutions of punishment," he said, "and we will strive to help rather than hurt the light offender."

The secretary's speech was scheduled for yesterday afternoon but when the plane in which he was flying here from Washington was delayed he delivered his address last night instead.

Belles Of Mullentown In Olden Days, Return

Touching scenes were among the highlights of the first reunion of former pupils of the Mullentown school, which was situated near the present West Side school. Men and women, many of them well along in years, renewed friendships with former Mullentowners who they had not seen for 50 years.

There was the case of the Perdue sisters—Daisy and Moxie. Popular when they attended the old school when Mullentown was a part of lower Union township, the years had separated them from their former school friends.

On Tuesday the Sisters Perdue came back to the West Side. Daisy was Mrs. C. W. Esch of Beaver Falls. Sister Moxie was Mrs. Moxie Perdue Shelar of Pittsburgh. Mullentown pupils failed to recognize the sisters immediately upon their arrival. But one man, who was a mischievous boy when a member of Daisy's class in the old days, cried out:

"Why, it's Daisy Perdue!"

Then began a round of handshaking and recollections of old days when Daisy and Moxie were the Belles of Mullentown school.

STATE MOVES TO GIVE AID DURING WATER SHORTAGE

Engineers Locate, Test New Sources; Appeal Warns Of Danger

HARRISBURG, Aug. 13.—Convinced that only a heavy downpour, lasting several days, will break the long continued droughts which has steadily tightened its grip on almost every section of the state, officials of the various departments of the commonwealth's government are joining today in relieving the situation as far as possible.

Engineers of the State Department of Health and the Public Service Commission have been co-operating actively with municipal authorities in locating auxiliary supplies of water when the usual resources showed signs of failing.

In repeated warnings, Dr. Theodore E. Appel, secretary of health, urged the people of the state to use every possible precaution when depending upon auxiliary sources of water supply.

Test Supplies.

The department's mobile laboratories were instructed to concentrate all tests upon water supplies which are being used only during the period of the present emergency. Engineers and chemists have attempted to cover all sections of the state, testing and guarding the sources of supply.

While such tests have been possible in the more thickly populated districts, which depend upon public service companies for supplies, outlying rural districts are, in a large measure, unguarded.

Because of this situation state health authorities have urged all those using water not known definitely to be pure to boil it before using it for drinking purposes. A drop of iodine allowed to settle in a quart of water is another easy method of purifying water, it was said.

Officials of water works, both municipal and private, have been asked to keep the Department of Health in touch with local conditions, so that it will be possible to co-operate in testing and guarding the present supplies and also to locate additional sources if conditions grow worse.

Scranton Electric Company Seeking To Reduce Rates

Counsel For Scranton Electric Company Asks Commission To Sanction Reduction

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 13.—With a statement from the company counsel that the company was making too much money and that rates to consumers should be reduced, the Public Service Commission today had set Aug. 26 as the tentative date for the next hearing on a rate adjustment of the Scranton Electric Company.

The declaration that the company's earnings were too high came from Ellis A. Ballard, its counsel, at the climax of a hearing last yesterday before Commissioner Charles H. Young.

The hearing was on the commission's own motion to investigate rates of the Scranton company, and Ballard's statement, it is believed, virtually assures residents of Scranton, Carbondale, Pittston and nearby communities of an early rate reduction.

Harmony Line May Make Change Monday; To Use Busses In City

It is probable that P. H. B. & N. C. Railway company cars will stop Monday at the city line and busses will be used to bring passengers into New Castle.

The company has made application to the public service commission for permission to abandon its tracks inside the city, four of the five councilmen have agreed to the move. It is reported and the construction firm of Woods and Golder desires to remove the tracks in Butler Avenue, Monday.

Solicitor Robert White is preparing to forward to the public service commission a letter in which he states that he acknowledges receipt of a copy of the application of the P. H. B. & N. C. Railway company for a leave to cease to operate and to abandon its route in New Castle.

He will state, it is reported, that he has investigated the petition and believe the city will be able to join in it, in every particular but will inform the commission that three councilmen are away and council will not meet until next Monday.

The commission will be advised that the three councilmen and mayor have indicated their consent to the abandonment. White will say that the contractor has charge of Butler Avenue who is required to repave the street within a certain period of time. The letter will inform the commission that the contractor has been delayed and obstructed by the tracks and add: "I understand that it will be necessary for him to take up the tracks Monday in order to proceed with the state highway program and to get the connecting road finished in the fall."

White's letter will say: "I have been given to understand that the Harmony company has provided ample facilities for taking care of its tracks by means of busses and trucks from the city line into the city and I am therefore free to join in the request for a temporary permit prayed for by the petitioner."

Dr. Steen To Present July Milk Report

The statement, in the form of a report will cover the city's control of milk sold here during July.

A new pleasant way to remove loose Dandruff

Listerine shampoo usually gets results in 3 days—and cools itching scalp

NOW thousands are hailing the wonderful results obtained by full strength Listerine used in connection with the shampoo.

Ordinary loose dandruff is often removed in three days or less—sometimes in one treatment. Inflamed conditions of the scalp which cause itching and burning are relieved almost instantly. The entire scalp is made cleaner, healthier, and more vigorous after only a few applications. We have hundreds of unsolicited letters testifying to Listerine's success against dandruff.

If you have loose dandruff—if your scalp itches, feels uncomfortable or shows any evidence of inflammation, try Listerine and see how quickly you note improvement.

Dandruff is drying sebum forced out by over-active fat glands surrounding the hair roots. This over-activity, many dermatologists claim, is the result of infection.

Listerine used full strength dissolves and removes the sebum, and if infection is present attacks it. You know it is a safe though powerful germicide.* Simply douse it on the scalp full strength and massage vigorously with the fingertips, repeating the treatment until dandruff has disappeared. A little olive oil may be used if the scalp is excessively dry. Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

*Though safe to use in any body cavity, full strength Listerine kills even the Staphylococcus Aureus (pus) and Bacillus Typhosus (typhoid) germs in counts ranging to 200,000,000 in 15 seconds (fastest time accurately recorded by science).

Listerine THE SAFE ANTISEPTIC

kills 200,000,000 germs in 15 seconds

Seventy Drowned
In Ship Tragedy
As Mine Blows UpLaunch Bound From Hongkong
To Kongmoon Blown To Pieces By Mine

(International News Service)
LONDON, Aug. 13.—Seventy persons, most of them women, were drowned today when a mine blew up a large launch bound from Hongkong to Kongmoon, Canton dispatches to evening newspapers reported.

The terrific blast tore a wide gash in the boat, which sank almost immediately. Government investigators were rushed to the scene of the tragedy, but it is doubtful whether much further detail will be available regarding the placing of the mine.

The Way OF THE World

By GROVE PATTERSON

WITH YOUR TEN MILLION
What would you do if you had $10,000,000 to spare on your hands? It is said E. S. Harkness, who has given huge fortunes to educational institutions, now proposes to give $10,000,000 to do educational and social work in England. Earning that much money would be a great task. Few could do it. And few could spend that much with intelligence. Look about you and see poverty, unrest, unhappiness. Suppose you had millions to give away, would you know how to relieve that poverty, quiet the unrest, bring happiness? Can human nature be repaired with money?

REAL WELFARE
Scientists, gathering in Paris, are told the conference is called for the purpose of reuniting scientific workers of all nations, the contacts of whom have been interrupted and retarded by the World war—and to re-awaken a sense of profound interest in the welfare of humanity.

This is hopeful. Thoughtful men are learning to think and talk in terms of human rather than national welfare. Contacts in scientific and social work, broken down by the war, are made again. The government is important; the people are more important.

ABOUT LIFE
University of Alabama uses newspapers as text books to bring students face to face with life and reality. If all of us read newspapers more and read them carefully, and read cheap magazines and cheap books less, we would learn more about life. One cannot escape life and reality, even by way of romance as set forth in books and magazines. We must learn to confront reality. We must learn to adjust ourselves to life as it is. It is rather pathetic to find ourselves and others seeking to live, even for a little while, in an unreal world.

PLANNING CIVILIZATION
Who knows how to plan civilization? There is a job for you. Bruce Bliven, editor of the New Republic, says:

"We must put civilization on a plan basis if there is to be any hope for its continuance. There is a constant race between education and catastrophe. Most of the old props that sustained our faith in the happy future of mankind have been removed. Religion, for instance, is playing an ever-diminishing part as an influencing factor in American life. The home has been replaced by outside amusements as a focal center of family interest. The example of Soviet Russia has given us the ever present menace of a world-wide proletarian revolution."

"We have come to realize that evolution is not necessarily beneficent and that another struggle like the World war would evolve a new barbarism which would lead to a new era of 'Dark Ages'. If man is to continue to live on this planet, he must control the machine of civilization which he has created."

Paddy Harmon Is Almost Penniless
When Death Comes

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—A benefit for the widow and four-year old son of Paddy Harmon, who promoted the $6,000,000 Chicago Stadium and died with only $2.50 to his name, was being planned here today.

Where Harmon's money went is a mystery. Sidney Siroz, present head of the stadium, said the promoter had $80,000 in the bank last winter. He also retained 204,000 shares of stadium stock when he relinquished control, but these holidays may not be realized for years.

Friends buried Harmon after his death in an automobile accident on July 22.

Replenish Lake

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 13.—Nearly 200 million fish were planted in the waters of Lake Erie in the past year in an effort to prevent a scarcity of the fishy tribe in that lake it was revealed today at the bureau of fisheries.

33. The Puritans—The End Of King Philip's War

BY THE SUMMER OF 1676 THE SUPERIOR RESOURCES AND ORGANIZATION OF THE NEW ENGLAND COLONISTS HAD BEATEN KING PHILIP AND HIS DUSKY BRAVES. IN MAY THE SETTLERS HAD WON A GREAT VICTORY OVER THE HOSTILES AT TURNER'S FALLS.

CANONCHET, FIERCE WAR CHIEF OF THE NARRAGANSETTS, WAS TAKEN AND EXECUTED. SLOWLY BUT SURELY ALL THE HOSTILES WERE BROUGHT TO BAY AND EITHER KILLED OR CAPTURED. MANY WERE SENT TO THE WEST INDIES TO BE SOLD AS SLAVES. —

FINALLY, KING PHILIP, A SOLITARY FUGITIVE, WAS RUN DOWN NEAR MT. HOPE IN RHODE ISLAND AND SLAIN. WITH HIS DEATH THE BLOODY WAR CAME TO AN END. THE COLONISTS HAD TRIUMPHED, BUT AT A FEARFUL COST.

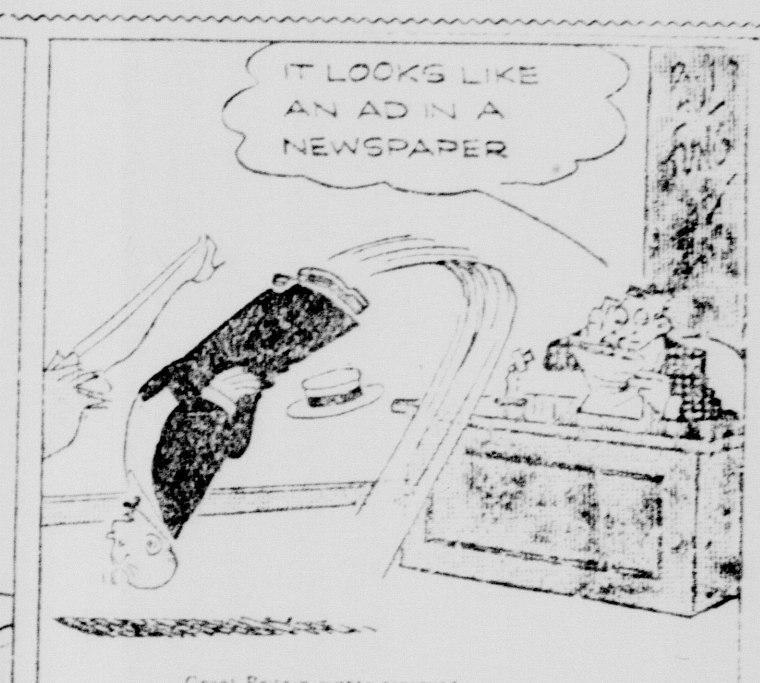

HUNDREDS OF FRONTIER HOMES LAY IN ASHES. A THOUSAND ENGLISH FIGHTING MEN HAD FALLEN, SCORES OF WOMEN AND CHILDREN HAD PERISHED OR BEEN CARRIED OFF INTO CAPTIVITY AND A HUGE WAR DEBT HAD ACCUMULATED.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

The Canadian cup race at Rochester, N. Y., yesterday was marred by a broken main spreader on the defending Thisbe of the Rochester Yacht club which forced her out of competition in the second of the series. Quest, the challenging yacht of the Royal Canadian Yacht club won at the completion of the 21-mile angular course. The time was 3:24:24.

Nate Lewis, of the Chicago Stadium, is trying to match Jack Kid Berg and Tony Canzoneri. Berg is one of the most popular Britons who has come to America. He recently won from Kid Chocolate though many writers believe the "Keed" should have had a draw. Canzoneri is liked in Chicago and if the match is made Lewis can set back and count the shekels.

With fall weather only a month and approximately a week distant fistic promoters are angling for top-notch matches and at present a bout between Jack Sharkey and Primo Carnera is being cooked up. Chicago wants the fight. It is certain to draw a million dollars, writers believe. European promoters are also trying to match Willie Stirling with Max Schmeling. Max has been in Europe since winning on a foul from Jack Sharkey.

Paddy Harmon, who lived to promote the $6,000,000 Chicago stadium, died penniless according to Chicago reports. His death came from an auto accident. He held 204,000 shares of common stock in the stadium but this may not be worth much for several years.

A contract has been let for the construction of a bobsled run and return road at Lake Placid for use in the Olympic winter games in 1932. It will cost $60,000. The site is just outside the village of Lake Placid.

Spying On Sports

By WILLIAM RITT
Central Press Sports Editor.
The prominent position now occupied by Brooklyn's baseball representatives in the current National League scene, brings again plaintive queries from that section of the public which still takes its baseball outfit should laze under the inane tile of the Dodgers.

Who, the fans want to know, are the Brooklyn Dodgers?
The cause goes way back, many years before subway trains shot back and forth beneath the East river and the journey from Manhattan to Brooklyn had to be made by trolleys which labored over the big bridges and meandered apparently aimlessly around the wilds of Flatbush.

There were so many trolley lines threading the vast regions of Kings county, from Bushwick to Gravesend bay and from Canarsie to the Gowanus canal that native Brooklynites seemed forever hopping across streets, leaping and springing for safety across the paths of the myriad tram cars. Effete and a trifle contemptuous New Yorkers gazed at these public gymnastics of the natives and dubbed them the Trolley Dodgers, the name later being applied to the local baseball team.

However, while the Dodgers have been the Dodgers for decades, that was not their first name. The yellowed, dusty tomes of baseball refer to the Brooklyn ball club by the name of the Atlantics, which played in that long-ago era a decade or so after the Civil war.

Later, during a triumphant reign in the National league the Brooklyn became the Superbas, a splendid name for a pennant winning team. However, the Brooklyn fell on evil days and into the second division and a name such as Superbas only made them look the more ridiculous. It was then the gradual change of name to the Dodgers took place and, to most baseball fans, the Dodgers they have remained.

Though the grand old nickname has done good service for two decades or more, it, too, now threatens to disappear. A younger generation of baseball fans and writers insist on calling the Brooklyn the Robins, a name obviously derived from the fact that Wilbert Robinson has managed the club for many years.

It is the baseball writers who perpetuate or terminate sporting nicknames and the doom of the name Dodgers is sure because Robins fits more easily in a headline and allows greater play in writing. Most of the metropolitan newspapers nowadays appear with "Robins Wing Way West" and "Flock Pecks Out Win, 3-2."

However, the name will never entirely disappear. Brooklyn today is still a giant spider web of steel rails and as long as nimble Flatbush natives are to be seen nimbly but safely popping out of the paths of the still numerous trolleys to all old-time fans the Dodgers will remain the Dodgers.

the National league the Brooklyn became the Superbas, a splendid name for a pennant winning team. However, the Brooklyn fell on evil days and into the second division and a name such as Superbas only made them look the more ridiculous. It was then the gradual change of name to the Dodgers took place and, to most baseball fans, the Dodgers they have remained.

Though the grand old nickname has done good service for two decades or more, it, too, now threatens to disappear. A younger generation of baseball fans and writers insist on calling the Brooklyn the Robins, a name obviously derived from the fact that Wilbert Robinson has managed the club for many years.

The Mercantile teams were in action last night as follows: The Haney beat the News Slugs, and the Wampum team beat the Bankers. The Phalanx forfeited to the Pearce & Bartsch team and the Firemen-Bankers were not scheduled.

The Industrial league teams play Thursday as follows: Lockkeys vs Radiators at Radiator Field. Cheives vs Engineering Works at Tin Mill Field. Shenango Tin vs Penn-Ohio at Lehigh Field. Lehigh vs Bell Phones at Washington Field.

There is a keen race on in the Mercantile league for the second half title, between the Firemen and Wampum, and it begins to look as if recently postponed games between these two teams may decide the issue when they finally get together. The Wampum team recently protested a victory that the Firemen secured over them, but the ruling favors the Firemen, because the ball in question landed on foul territory and can not be called anything else but a foul, and the player allowed to bat over.

Babe Ruth Denies Baseball On Wane

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—"This talk about baseball being on the wane is a lot of applesauce."

In an interview here George Herman Ruth, "Sultan of Swat," who called nearly to a new home run record despite a severe hand injury that for a time handicapped him, struck back at the pessimists who declare baseball interest to be on the downward path.

In further proof of his statement, the Babe went on:

"They still rave and howl just as loudly as ever here in Boston. It keeps right on being the best city of them all. Can you imagine any other town turning out 22,000 for a mid-week double-header for a last place ball club, as Boston did for the Red Sox the other day?"

"A lot has been said about poor attendance on our last western trip, but I'm ready to tell the world that there never was such steady and continued heat."

"It was right at 100 in every city we played and the fans who came out boiled. The first time I remember when a whole string of ball games should have been postponed on account of heat."

SORDS POINTS

Chicago, In Second Division Jungle, Has Real Roaring Lyons

By JACK SORDS
Central Press Sports Artist

Winning 17 victories by mid-August is a neat job for any pitcher against any kind of background, but doing same with only the current edition of the Chicago White Sox as a supporting cast approaches the status of a remarkable feat.

Caged with his fellow Chicagoans in the jungles of the second division Ted Lyons, hurler extraordinary, roars defiance at pennant contenders and on many occasions, 17 to be exact, has made the roars good, following them with severe thrashings.

As a lion Ted looks more like a panther, being a slender chap and at first glance apparently not a strong one. But he is filled with the old stamina and a horse for labor.

Ted came up from Baylor university in 1923 and was not figured to last long by those who thought his build wasn't strong enough for the task of pitching big league ball. But he fooled them.

Among his other accomplishments this season is Ted's batting, which is well over the 300 mark. Not only does this give the weak-hitting White Sox another 300 hitter, but many of Lyons' hits have come at opportune moments.

South Hill And Slovak A. C. Tie

St. Vitus Parish Will Celebrate

Feast Of Assumption Of Blessed Mary To Be Observed On Saturday

RELIGIOUS PROGRAM
STARTS ON THURSDAY

St. Vitus parish will on Friday, Aug. 15th, observe the feast of the assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary and on Saturday, the day following, in the same parish, the feast of St. Rocco will be observed by the citizens of Pietramolara, together with all the members of the parish. These special religious festival days will be observed with the full rites of the Catholic church.

In conjunction with these religious celebrations there will be held on the church school property adjoining the church building on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday the fourth annual lawn fete of the parish for the benefit of the activities of the parish.

The latter event is being sponsored by the combined Catholic societies of the congregation and the religious ceremonies and lawn fete give promise of being two of the major events of the year in the parish.

Feast of the assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary is a religious festival dear to the hearts of the members of St. Vitus parish, due in the first place that St. Mary is the patroness of the parish and also because of the fact that on August 15, 1907, the cornerstone of the present handsome church property was laid, and on the same date in 1908 the church was dedicated with appropriate ceremonies by the late Rt. Rev. Regis Canevin.

The religious festivities in connection with the observance of the assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary will get under way Thursday evening with a vesper service at 7:30 o'clock.

On Friday, the day of the feast of the assumption, there will be three special masses, the first at seven a. m., the second at nine a. m. and solemn high mass at 10:45 a. m. The pastor, Rev. Fr. N. DeMita, will be the celebrant of the first two masses, while at the solemn high mass Rev. Fr. Anthony Donatelli, assistant pastor of the parish, will be the celebrant, with Rev. Fr. DeMita as deacon and Rev. Fr. P. S. Clifford of St. Mary's parish as sub-deacon. Rev. Fr. DeMita will deliver the sermon at the high mass.

Observance of this feast will come to a close with a vesper service and benediction of the blessed sacrament on Friday evening.

Observance of the feast of Saint Rocco will occur on Saturday morning with the first mass at 7:30 a. m. and high mass at nine a. m.

The annual lawn fete is being held and there will be booths of all kinds for the amusement and entertainment of the thousands of visitors that will be in attendance.

Featuring the fete is the large open air dancing pavilion on which many people may enjoy themselves at the same time. This is an innovation which is expected to prove popular.

All the booths and the dancing pavilion will be decorated elaborately with flags and other decorations and the place will be as light as day with the use of hundreds of electric lights placed in an attractive manner under the supervision of Jacob DeFonso.

ROAMING

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

There is a lot of difference between a fair and an "Old Home Week." Not that there is any difference in the midway amusements or in the taste of the hot dogs, but there is a difference in the kind of celebration. In an Old Home Week everybody is looking for somebody else, and usually meets someone they weren't looking for.

Took a ride over to Prospect yesterday to visit the Old Home Week of the Prospectors, if that's what they call a citizen of Prospect. Burgess McGowan was dressed up like a sailor, on holiday, with his white suit, and there was more than just style in this. The dust over there has a habit of enveloping you and a dark suit is dark only for a few minutes.

There was a time when Prospect was a thousand miles away from everybody when the roads were wet. Now it has a concrete boulevard through it, connecting with Butler and New Castle, and getting places is only a matter of minutes, the number depending upon how and what you drive.

Met some of the concession men from the New Castle Fair there. The boys were playing Prospect, just before the Butler Fair and the same old line sounded familiar.

The old boy who looks like an imitation of Buffalo Bill was there with his collection of famous crooks. To his collection he has added Irene Schroeder, although what he had Irene Schroeder was named as the one wanted for the murder of Brady Paul.

When I asked him what about it, the old boy immediately began giving me a history of the case and some of the things he told me were rather surprising. By this time next year he should have a splat down that will really make good listening.

The numbers racket seems to be getting into the class of keen competition now. The boys have agents out now who make calls just like your grocer calls you every morning. And you can play anything from a nickel up to a dollar and a quarter.

Have you got your letter from the mayor yet? Remember that if you happen to violate the traffic ordinances, somebody will probably report it and while it will not mean a fine, yet it means that your violation has been noticed. Let's get together on this sort of thing and make driving through New Castle as safe as it should be.

County Employees Suffer Wage Cut

—A reduction of $5 per month in salaries of all appointive officers in Marshall county was ordered late today by the county court, effective immediately. Forty persons including clerks, stenographers, deputy assessors, except part-time field deputies, and deputy sheriffs are affected by the order.

Only the salary of the county road engineer was left unchanged. The Marshall county levy was set at 65 cents on $100 valuation. All district bond levies were increased in amounts ranging from 1 to 15 cents.

Mullentown School Reunion Is Ended Tuesday Evening

Three Hundred Attend First Annual Reunion; Will Hold Event Next Year

The first Mullentown reunion ended Tuesday evening at Lakewood Beach after a day of renewed friendships, singing of old school songs and reminiscences of childhood days.

Announcement was made that the reunion has been so successful that a second affair of similar nature will be held again next year.

Three hundred former students of the Mullentown school, which was located on the present West Side, attended the reunion Tuesday.

The following additional out-of-town visitors arrived at Lakewood Tuesday afternoon:
T. D. Tyler, of Warren, Ohio; John Hammond, Youngstown; Dr. B. F. Glass of Youngstown; Bessie Hannon Simpson of Alliquippa; James Dewberry, Girard, O.; Maude Tyler Mc-

Clusky, Youngstown. Another former teacher present was Miss Lillian J. Russell, of Youngstown.

Frost Reported In Mercer County

GREENVILLE, Aug. 13.—Frost and unseasonal cold temperatures overnight replaced the burning heat of the past weeks in Mercer county and added a new menace to the already serious condition of the crops.

A frost was reported in the lowlands along Sandy Creek, near Shavelsville in the northern part of the county. While the frost was not general there, it was nevertheless plainly discerned by early risers.
